Performers

Lolita Dark

Lolita Dark is a 5-piece bilingual rock group of musical chameleons, fronted by dynamically-ranged female vocalist/composer/multi-instrumentalist Rayko. Recently, Lolita Dark signed a 5-year record deal with Spark Japan and released their E. Asia debut album "Citizen's Revenge" from Universal Records. Between the countless sold-out shows and massive support they have received from their cult-like following, Lolita Dark has proven that they are ready to take on the world!

Phoenix Ash

Phoenix Ash is America's own Japanese Rock band. As the sole Americans on the influential Plug Records label in Japan (Daizy Stripper, Fest Vainqueur) Phoenix Ash is breaking musical and cultural barriers, fusing the essences of Japanese and American rock with their unique brand of infectious melodies and heart pumping anthems. Signed with legendary producer Yoshinobu Toida (X Japan, GLAY, DaizyStripper), the band launched its debut Japanese album and performed two Japanese tours.

Lawbster

Bar Con's resident master DJ, Lawbster lays down the beat with heartpounding tracks that span every imaginable style, from hip hop to EDM to anisong and J-rock. Lawbster closes out each Bar Con episode with unforgettable remixes that will get you on your feet and keep you on the dance floor.

Samurai Champloo

Mugen is a ferocious, animalistic warrior with a fighting style inspired by break-dancing. Jin is a ronin samurai who wanders the countryside alone. They may not be friends, but their paths continually cross. And when ditzy waitress Fuu gets them out of hot water with the local magistrate, they agree to join her search for the samurai who smells like sunflowers.

Drink game rules

Take a drink every time:

- Fuu mentions the samurai who smells like sunflowers
- Mugen kicks someone
- Jin touches his glasses

Yuri!!! on Ice

Yuri Katsuki carried the hope of all Japan on his shoulders in the Figure Skating Grand Prix, but suffered a crushing defeat in the finals. He returned to his hometown in Kyushu and hid away in his family's home, half wanting to continue skating and half wanting to retire. That was when the five-time consecutive world champion, Viktor Nikiforov, suddenly showed up with his teammate, Yuri Plisetsky, a young skater starting to surpass his seniors. And so the two Yuris and the Russian champion Viktor set out to compete in a Grand Prix like none the world has ever seen!

Activities

Bust-A-Move

Known as Puzzle Bobble in Japan, Bust-A-Move is a 1994 tile-matching puzzle video game. At the start of each round, the playing arena contains a pattern of colored "bubbles". The players control "pointers," which fire randomly colored bubbles up the screen. The bubbles travel in straight lines (possibly bouncing off the sides), stopping when they touch other bubbles or reach the top. If a bubble touches identically-colored bubbles, forming a group of three or more, those bubbles—as well as any bubbles hanging from them—burst. When a player removes a large group (four bubbles or more) some of those removed are transferred to the opponent's arena. A player wins when his/her opponent's arena is completely filled with bubbles.

Exploding Kittens

Setup

Deal everyone 1 defuse and 6 cards from the deck. Then shuffle in 1 less exploding or imploding kitten card than the number of players into the deck.

Rules

On your turn you may play any amount of cards from your hand.

Your turn ends when you draw a card, or have played a card to skip your draw phase. If you draw an Exploding kitten, you either lose the game or play a defuse card. Using a defuse card you will take the exploding kitten you drew and put it anywhere you want back in the deck without changing the order. If you draw a face down Imploding kitten, put it face up anywhere in the deck without defusing it. If you draw the Imploding kitten face up, there's nothing you can do but lose.

Drinking Rules

Attack: receiving player drinks twice

Skip: you are a coward, drink once

Steal/Favor: you get my card and a drink

Nope: player drinks once

Shuffle: everyone drinks once

Defuse: crisis averted. Drink once

Exploding/imploding kitten: Drink once
